The Hopkins Journal relates the following unusual incident: A man went into Roby's stable in Maryville the other day to hire a horse for eighteen days. All the horses were out and Roby told the man to wait and he would go out and buy one. He went out on the street and bought one for $7 which he hitched up for the man, receiving $15 in advance for use of the animal eighteen days.

The Glasgow Globe says there is a point on the Missouri river about six miles above Glasgow where the river is rapidly eating Chariton county out of some of its very best farm lands. The place is known as the "White bend," and one farmer who lives there has lost a field since cutting the wheat from it. If more work is not done soon by the government it is stated that many valuable farms will be wiped out of existence entirely.

This story comes from Brunswick: A young man went to church with his "very best" girl. Both were quite handsome and modest. When the collection was being taken up the young man explored his pockets and finding nothing, whispered to the young lady: "I haven't got a cent; I changed my pants." Meantime the young lady had been searching her pocket, and finding nothing blushed a rosy red as she stammered: "I'm in the same predicament."

The following is of unknown authorship, but it is the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth: "Silver and wheat are trying to get together again. Silver has advanced and wheat has declined until they are getting in speaking distance again. The gold-standard press has adroitly changed the subject and we hear nothing now but talk of expansion, the influx of gold, the increase of the gold reserve and the boom of that prosperity that is to come."

"A Plattburg attorney," says the Democrat-Lever, "had a peculiar experience last week. A woman came to him to get a divorce, but she didn't know her husband's name. She had been locked in her room by her father and kidnapped by a lover she had known for a week. They went to a preacher and were married. After a few days of wedded bliss her spouse vamoosed and left her weeping. At last she came down to Plattburg to get a divorce and she happened to think she didn't know her name."

Three cheers and a tiger for Moses Jones of Summer! He had a young vandal arrested last week for jerking a picket off of his (Jones') yard fence. The culprit was tried and fined $1 and costs. Mr. Jones has long been a victim of such depredations, and the Courier congratulates him upon having at last captured one of the offenders and having him punished, although the fine was not as heavy as it should have been. He who is guilty of such wanton destruction of another's property ought to be horsewhipped first, then tried and given the severest punishment the law provides.

Sunday morning about six o'clock lightning struck the residence of Bruce Kilpatrick in this place, says the Summer Star. It knocked down one chimney and raked another; it ran down all the valleys and gutters and melted the solder on them, and tore them loose from the house. Mrs. Kilpatrick was sitting in the window grinding coffee for breakfast and she was knocked to her knees on the floor. Lewis Lisle was in the calf lot near the house and was considerably shocked. A horse was knocked down in the barn 60 feet from the house. The great wonder is that the bolt did not set fire to the house.

The editor of the Brunswick Republican is trying to get Mr. "Wart" of that place into serious trouble, and is also courting a contusion of his own noggin by suggesting that Mr. "Wart" send one of his anonymous communications, with which the Republican has become burdened beyond further endurance, to the Courier. If Mr. "Wart" acts upon the mischief-making and murderous suggestion of the Republican and proceeds to afflict the Courier as he has that paper, the coroner is sure to be called upon to hold a couple of inquests, one on the head of the "Wart" household and the other on the editor of the Republican. But in order to prevent a tragedy we would suggest to Editor Fensetemaker that he steal an old dishrag, bury it in some secluded spot and he may succeed in getting rid of his troublesome "Wart," if he (Fensetemaker) won't get on too intimate terms with the Frog family again.
